

CISO Leadership Development Event
26 September, Brisbane

I.T. & Security Managers

This event will seek to provide IT and cybersecurity professionals with:

An insight into the leadership skills they need to expand their career horizons

An appreciation of how to communicate more effectively to the C-level suite and to board members

Understand the value of a meaningful strategy that aligns purposefully to the business

How to become an influencer across the business and to break down the silos that exist inside organisations

To build their self-confidence in horizons not previously considered

Benefits

Better understanding of the leadership challenges facing cyber security leaders

Expand your influence with your stakeholders

Build your brand as a game-changing leader

Define your career path with an expanded horizon

Challenge the barriers of perception

Improved communication skills

Improved ability to influence across the business

Understand the expectations of the board

Why you should send your IT and security professionals:

Align them more to the growth, profitability and risk side of the business

Invest in their personal and professional development as leaders

Improve their business acumen and business communication skills

Build their capability to roi the security and IT expenditure

Mould them into "enablers" not "roadblocks"

Confidence in horizons not previously considered

Benefits

Stop the churn of quality people

Provide them with the skills to add value to your business

Staff retention up, recruitment costs down

Staff morale up, sick leave down

Build stronger high-performance teams

CFO's

James Carlopio BA MA PhD
Executive Director Cultural Cyber Security

Dr. Carlopio has worked on cultural and technology transformation projects for numerous Australian, European and US-based organisations. James has worked with organisations such as the United Nations (ACT/EMP) in Geneva and Zurich Switzerland, with Origin, Boral, Bechtel, Laing O'Rourke, Rio Tinto, IBM, NABCapital, Australian Federal Police, AIPM, The ABC, Munich Reinsurance, ANZ Bank, Westpac, Vodafone, Telstra, Optus, SAP, AMP, NRMA, Commonwealth Bank, Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu, Applied Micro Systems/AAG Holdings/Volante, Australian Customs Service, Trowbridge Consulting, Australian Defense Industries, Mallesons Stephen Jaques, Honeywell Australia Limited, St. Vincent's Hospital Sydney, Austrade and The Pipeline Authority, in Australia, and with General Motors, Ford Motors and over 100 of their first and second tier suppliers in the U.S.

James has published over three-dozen articles and five books on various socio-technical issues and has written a regular section for the Australian Financial Review BOSS magazine. He has been a facilitator of short-term meetings and large-scale organisational change, and a speaker at numerous meetings on cyber-security, organisational strategy, cybernetics, human factors/ergonomics, human technology, and organisational behaviour.

Brian Hay APM
Executive Director Cultural Cyber Security

Brian Hay APM has a rare blend of cyber security skills and business attributes. Long considered a Thought Leader in the world of Cyber Security he learned his craft not from the technical demands of the industry but rather by focusing on the activities of organised crime and cyber criminals.

Having developed the security concept of the "Lifecycle of Cybercrime" he consults with key clients to understand their business strategies and seeks to assist organisational objectives whilst ensuring the highest levels of security. His broad environmental awareness and thought leadership expertise seeks to understand the client environment in order to align how CCS can assist in meeting the client's full spectrum of security requirements, from governance, risk management, compliance and technical consulting, through to technology integration, training and managed services. Recently with Unisys as Lead CISO Advisor APAC, Security he was responsible for managing and developing Unisys' Security Consulting business for Asia Pacific, while delivering operational and service excellence.

Brian brings a wealth of security experience, and has a proven record of partnering with industry for innovative solutions to difficult problems. Prior to joining Unisys, Brian was General Manager, Security for Dimension Data, Australia. Prior to this Brian was Detective Superintendent at Queensland Police, where he served 35 years. Since 2004, he has worked extensively in the area of financial, identity and cybercrime. He was Commander of the Queensland Police Fraud & Cyber Crime Group, Chair of the Australia New Zealand Police Advisory Agency's eCrime Working Group, a pivotal driver of the Australian Cybercrime Online Reporting Network, and member of the Federal Attorney-General's National Cybercrime Working Group.

Brian Donovan
Director Donovan Leadership

Brian Donovan is an author, executive coach and leadership speaker. He has helped countless technology leaders transform from technical experts into leaders who succeed. He is a dedicated advocate of practical leadership. His commitment is informed by decades of experience in the technology sector.

He is energised by an ongoing program of research and scholarship and has a passion for game-changing leadership. His recent book, 'Leadership is Changing the Game,' distils many of the lessons and experiences from participants in his executive coaching program and is a valuable resource for leaders who want to build their influence and change the game.

He is a dedicated advocate of powerful and practical leadership. His commitment to the field is informed by 40 years' experience and energised by an ongoing program of research and scholarship. His passion for transformational leadership is infectious.

Always at the forefront of management theory and practice, Brian founded Donovan Leadership to share his knowledge and passion. Since 2007, Donovan Leadership has been actively inspiring professionals to new heights, uncovering new perspectives to expand possibilities, and transforming technical specialists into leaders who succeed.

Our founder's reputation as a thought leader has earned Donovan Leadership a client list that reads like a roll call of Australian industry's best and brightest. We take pride in guiding talented individuals to discover the wealth of possibilities that lie within.

Schedule

0830 Registration and coffee

0900 What CEO's and Board Members need from a CISO • Q&A

To be confirmed

1030 Morning Tea

1100 The CISO and Leadership workshop session • Feedback from the market on the rising expectations of CISOs • Influencing across the business – where are you on the influence curve and where do you need to be? • Applying the influence curve to a leadership challenge that you face • How to inspire others to take action on your vision and strategy • What are the actions you are taking away?

Brian Donovan

Outcomes of Session • Tools for meeting the rising expectations of business units, C-suite and boards • A better understanding of how to balance the demands of day to day critical issues with the expectation that you will play a more strategic role • A better appreciation of how Cyber Security leaders can take their seat at the executive table • How to transition from being a technical expert to a people leader • How to inspire actions by others • A leadership action plan to get you from where you are now to where you need to be.

1230 Lunch

1330 Establishing and influencing Organisational Culture as a Leader • The secret sauce for success • Communication and influence • Building culture • Making change happen • Do a cultural analysis • Conduct a stakeholder analysis • Customise your communication and change management plan

James Carlopio

Outcomes of Session • Improved understanding of the importance of organisational culture • Awareness of how to introduce change into your culture paradigm • Improved appreciation of how to understand your own organisational culture • Gain an insight into how you can influence your organisational culture • Understand why cultural engagement is imperative to your future success

1500 Afternoon Tea

1530 Strategy • Driving Business Outcomes, Reducing Risk, Growing People Understand your business, understand your enemy, understand your future Reactive Vs proactive strategy – where are you today? Where do you want to be tomorrow? • Migration from the IT vertical to the Business horizontal • Reviewing your plans - RM Plan, Cyber Plan, IT Plan, Company Business Plan, IR Plan, Business Continuity Plan • Undertake a strategy alignment analysis • Undertake a capability gap analysis • Plan to get to where you want to be.

Brian Hay

Outcomes of session • Learn how to think more strategically • Learn how to add value to the broader business environment • How to use strategic planning to break down internal silos
Learn how to prepare and develop strategic plans and turn them into actions by adding broader value to your business • Learn how to strategically turn security expenditure into a Return on Investment

1700 Reflection and Personal Goals

James Carlopio

1730 Networking opportunity

Details

Date

Wednesday, 26 september 2018

Time

0900 to 1730

Location

Office of Hall Chadwick QLD level 4, 240 Queen St, Brisbane City QLD 4000

Book

$1200 + GST per delegate (15% discount for 2nd delegate)

Contact

For more information and bookings contact
Ryan Hay
rhay@culturalcybersecurity.com
0430 457 027

www.culturalcybersecurity.com

